Join us as we venture to the West Coast to increase the Atlas effort hours, day and night, this winter!

This is a fantastic opportunity to join the team and contribute valuable bird observations to an undersurveyed area of Aotearoa New Zealand.

The Atlas team will drive over from Christchurch after the conference on Monday 6th June to Hokitika, where we will be basing ourselves for the week.

Toi Toi Wines have kindly provided some funding for this trip. Group size will determine per person costs and this will be discussed once interest and registration is finished. We are limiting the group size to ensure we can effectively spread the funding.

We will be heading into backcountry areas, and going out Atlasing day and night to gather as much data as possible.

If this sounds like something you'd be keen on, please register online using the link provided in the mailout.
