

[Photo by G. J. H. Moon

BLUE REEF HERON

This is a coastal species, more numerous in the north than in the south, nesting by preference in caves or cracks in sea-cliffs. A white phase of this heron, which occurs commonly in the tropics, might straggle to N.Z.